RECEPTION ROOM
IN U. S. CAPITOL,
BUT NO ONE IS HURT

Tremendous Explosion Occurs Shortly Before Midnight in Place Where Public Is Received on Senate Side of Building.

OPINION IS EXPRESSED THAT THE EXPLOSIVE WAS PLACED BY CRANK

Doors of Capitol Closed and No One Allowed to Enter While Investigation Is Under Way—Explosion Is Heard for Several Blocks and Caused a Panic.

Washington, July 2.—A tremendous explosion, believed to have been caused by some kind of bomb or infernal machine, wrecked the public reception room on the east side of the capitol building shortly before midnight tonight. No one was injured.

Called for Explosive Expert. Superintendent Wood, of the capitol building, summoned by panic-stricken watchmen, made a hurried investigation and then telephoned for an expert on explosives.

Until the expert has made his report no official statement concerning the incident will be made public. Officials believe that the explosive was placed by a crank who desired to create a sensation. Visitors were allowed in the room during the day and a timed machine might have been left without attracting attention.

The building had been closed since dark and there was no one in it but the watchmen and telephone switchboard operators. Watchman Jones, on the floor below, at the east entrance, said he was blown from his chair.

Report Heard a Mile. The report could be heard for a mile and in a few minutes the excited people had gathered. In the meantime lights had been switched on and excited officials were rushing back and forth on two floors of the building.

After the first removal of a bomb, some of the investigators concluded that the blast had been caused by spontaneous combustion in a gas pipe, the sides of the room were torn out, however, and all the pipes apparently were intact. There had been no gas fixtures on the walls, and no explosion occurred there nearly twenty years ago, it was said.

A strong odor permeated the building, but none seemed able to detect just what it was. No trace could be found of an exploded bomb or of anything else which might have caused the explosion.

Hint to Administration. Superintendent Wood said he had examined the structural features of the building and found there was no damage except in the immediate vicinity of the reception room.

While some officials thought the explosion was the work of a irresponsible crank, with no other end in view than a sensation, others were serious in their belief that it might have been perpetrated by some one desiring to demonstrate the disastrous features of the policies of the American government. It was apparent that there was no intent to destroy life, as it is generally known the room is empty at night.

Blighted Romance
Causes Young Man
To Attempt Suicide

Dependancy, brought on by the memory of a blighted romance, was the cause of an attempted suicide by a young man living at 51 West Canal street.

F. G. Warrine, age 24, of Florence, S. C., who came to Atlanta in quest of a position six weeks ago, was rushed to Grady hospital last night by boarders in an apparently dying condition. He had taken permanent possession of a room, but had been in his system in time to take his life by Grady's entrance.

As Warrine slowly revived from the effects of the poison, he told his story to the police.

"I am thinking, tonight, of my pretty little wife," he said, "whom I left four years ago. She is now married to another."

"I left college at the age of nineteen to marry her despite the threats of my father to disinherit me for a large fortune. We lived happily a year, and, foolishly, separated, although love still reigned supreme between us."

"She divorced me and is now married."

"In the meantime both father and mother died, leaving me $10,000 to remain in the hands of a guardian until I should become 21 years old. I got only $10 a month from him, so I had to come to Atlanta to find a way to live."

"Tonight, I began to think of the old days, when I left school to marry. I miss her, and I miss the life I led."

"I am telling you, doctor, since you have sent from the clinic to a room in the hospital where he will be held until he is able to leave the hospital."

GEN. PORFIRIO DIAZ CALLED BY DEATH

Master of Mexico for 35 Years—Diaz Was Overthrown by Madero and Took Refuge in Paris.

Paris, July 2.—General Porfirio Diaz, former president of Mexico, died here early tonight.

General Diaz's wife, Senora Carmen Romero Rubio Diaz, and their son, Porfirio Diaz, Jr., and the latter's wife were by his side when he died. General Diaz began to fall rapidly about three weeks ago, and while his death was not unexpected, owing to his advanced age and recent falling health, the crisis came suddenly this afternoon. Porfirio Diaz, Jr., and his wife were hastily summoned and arrived at the bedside only a few moments before the end, which came at 7 o'clock tonight.

Colonel Diaz, in announcing the death of his father, said that he was unable to state the nature of the malady, but expressed the opinion that a complication of diseases, due to advanced age, was the cause. Two tragic circumstances marked the death of the exiled ruler. Owing to the troubled state in Mexico it has been judged impossible to send the body home with all that ceremony which would have befitted one of the figures of Mexican history, and further, General Diaz, who prospered and flourished in Mexico and of his father's death.

Not less tragic, perhaps, is the fact that not one of those whom General Diaz raised up as his assistants in governing Mexico and who prospered and grew rich in the shadow of his greatness was with him when he died. Jose Yves De Limantour, former Mexican minister of finance, is in London; Francisco De La Barra, former provisional president of Mexico and holder of other offices, is in Mexico; and Guillermo De Landau, former governor of the federal district in Mexico, is in Biarritz, France. Scarcely any one outside the circle knew of the seriousness of his father's illness or that he was in Paris.

The end seems to have been brought about by failure of the heart, weakened by a stroke of the brain. The illness lasted the aged exile blind, lying in the Bois de Boulogne, where he loved because it resembled the Champs-Élysées in Mexico City. He had been hoping to go to Biarritz shortly, but illness prevented.

General Diaz lived here in simplicity, occupying a modest apartment in striking contrast to the great houses of merchants and bankers in the proper handling of the crop.

South's Warehouse Capacity. In this connection attention is called to the estimate by the department of agriculture that the south now has a warehouse capacity of $4,400,000 bales, if proper use is made of this capacity and of the available resources of the banks, including both members and non-members of the cotton trust system, a gradual marketing of the crop will be possible, thereby avoiding a repetition of last year's conditions will be averted.

The writer, as chairman of the committee, would be glad to have your views on this subject and to secure your suggestions in formulating plans to reassure and encourage the cotton grower and others interested in our cotton growing industry."

Federal Reserve Board Preparing to Handle the Crop Next Fall—Harding Is Looking Into Conditions.

Washington, July 2.—The federal reserve board has decided to take every possible precaution to prevent a recurrence next fall of conditions such as confronted the south last year at a result of the unusually large cotton crop and the shutting off of a large part of the European market.

In carrying out its plan the board has appointed a committee with W. P. C. Harding as chairman to examine into conditions and determine the best way in which the coming crop may be taken care of. Although no one on the board pretends to be able to forecast accurately the next cotton crop, members think it will not be more than 15,000,000 bales. Last year's production was slightly more than 16,000,000 bales.

Mr. Harding has written a letter to the federal reserve agent of each of the four southern federal reserve banks asking for information and expressing the belief that under present conditions, with large surplus reserves in the banks, there is every reason to expect that the next crop can be taken care of without difficulty. He also noted that a domestic demand for cotton is increasing.

Mr. Harding's letter follows: "The federal reserve board, realizing the possibility of a large surplus of cotton this fall due to abnormal conditions in our export trade, desires full information regarding the facilities in your district for warehousing and financing the cotton which would be ordinarily available to you."

The board feels that in view of the large surplus reserves now held by the banks, there is every reason to expect that the next crop can be taken care of without difficulty, so far as the domestic market is concerned. In providing for necessary advances upon that part of the crop which will eventually be shipped to the demand for our domestic market, the department of agriculture is increasing the capacity of the cotton trust system, a gradual marketing of the crop will be possible, thereby avoiding a repetition of last year's conditions will be averted.

The writer, as chairman of the committee, would be glad to have your views on this subject and to secure your suggestions in formulating plans to reassure and encourage the cotton grower and others interested in our cotton growing industry."

Professor W. F. Dykes, Principal of the Boys' High School, Proposed for Supervisor Under This New System.

MRS. WISE IS SLATED
FOR POSITION AS HEAD OF COMMERCIAL SCHOOL

Teachers' Committee of the Board of Education Unanimously Adopts Resolution of James L. Key Providing for These Changes.

An important step toward the ultimate consolidation of the high schools of Atlanta into one great central university high school was taken Friday morning when the teachers' committee of the board of education unanimously adopted a resolution by which James L. Key was named as executive head of the Boys' high school, and the consolidated commercial high school for boys and girls that has been approved and the building for which is now in course of erection, Second Pryor street.

By co-ordinating the four high schools of the Boys' high, under Professor Dykes; the Fresh high, under Professor Cuiver; the Girls' high, under Miss Muse, and the consolidated commercial high school for boys and girls, under Mrs. Wise, we will have a more efficient system, said Mr. Key, outlining the plan.

"Under the old regime the four high schools were drifting apart one from the other, courses of study were taught in one that were not taught in the other, their policies were different and the high school department principals to map out their individual programs. Under the proposed new system the activities of one school dovetail into the other, and only in that manner can we hope to get more system in the high school department."

The board of education has gone on record as favoring the plan to ultimately consolidate all of the high schools into one great central high school, and the consolidation this year of the commercial branches—the English Commercial and Boys' high—was the first step to be taken.

"It allowed to continue as formerly the high schools would drift further apart, with the result that the consolidation would be delayed. We can do much of the fundamental and preliminary work right now and at the same time greatly broaden the efficiency of the high school department."

INQUEST PREVENTED
BY FLOOD ON RIVER

Lawyer Walter McKinney Seeks Protection of Judge Gilbert—Inquest Is Postponed Until Monday.

By BRITT CRAND. Blanton's Ferry, Ala., via West Point, Ga., July 2.—(Special).—The intensity of the situation developed along the Georgia-Alabama frontier by the triple tragedy of Epps and Max Melton and Johnny Leake is, perhaps, more adequately explained by the appeal to be made by Walter McKinney, attorney, engaged by citizens and families of the slain men to investigate the mysterious murder, to Judge Price Gilbert, of the Chattahoochee district, of Columbus, Ga., in the morning.

An effort was made by McKinney to get Judge Gilbert over long distance this afternoon, but the judge was not accessible. As a result the probe of the mystery is at a standstill. The inquest has been postponed until 9 o'clock Monday morning, following a series of exciting events at the river boundary this morning when two crowds gathered to hold the proposed session.

Now Victims Left Marooned. A new and equally mysterious angle presented itself tonight when J. E. Johnson, mayor of West Point, stated that he had been contacted by a man who had been with the slain men at the time of the tragedy. Johnson said that he had been contacted by a man who had been with the slain men at the time of the tragedy.

TELEPHONIC HARMER AT THE RUSSIANS AS THEY RETREAT

GERMANS ALSO THRUST ON THE WESTERN FRONT

They Are Striking at the French Lines at Several Points—Paris, However, Claims the Attacks Have Been Repulsed.

London, July 2.—The sudden resumption of heavy artillery fire by the Germans in France is a marked feature of the fighting on the western front, while the Austro-German advance in Galicia and Poland is unchecked and the Austrians have shown no disposition to diminish the intensity of their offensive.

The Polish fortress of Zamosc has been captured and Berlin claims advances in other sectors of strategic importance in the east. For weeks it has been the same story in this theater—as Austro-German rush, Russian retreat—and the end is not in sight.

HEIGHTS TAKEN BY TEUTONS. The Austro-German forces have reached the Russian positions at Krasnik, in southern Russian Poland, according to Berlin. In Galicia, after storming the heights southeast of Bukowina, north of Halicz, the Russians along the entire front from the district of Marjampol to just north of Przylub, have been obliged to retreat and are being harassed by the Teutonic troops.

In the western theater, the French admit the success of a German movement in the Vosges to gain a foothold in their works on Hagenfort, but for that through a counter attack all the positions were recaptured. The Germans are continuing to shell the French lines and are being harassed by the Teutonic troops.

BRITONS AWAKE TO SITUATION. There are manifold indications throughout the United Kingdom that the people only now, after nearly a year of peace, are beginning to realize the necessity of the most rigid economy for the purpose of winning the war. Only a few months ago the average man was spending as much as 10 shillings a week on luxuries. Theaters patronage was undiminished and the restaurant trade normal. The latest figures show that the average man is now spending only 5 shillings a week on luxuries. Theaters patronage was undiminished and the restaurant trade normal.

along the Gulla Lipa from Firjlow southward, according to an official statement given out tonight by the Austrian war office. The statement follows:

"After many days of bitter fighting General von Linsingen's army has driven the Russians from their strong positions along the Gulla Lipa southward from Firjlow. The enemy is retreating eastward and is pursued along the whole front. The enemy has suffered heavy losses, 1,000 men and eighteen machine guns being captured.

"Northward the fighting continues. On the Delester nothing of importance has occurred. In Russian Poland, on the Vistula and the Bug, we are combating a strong Russian force and also on the For and Brok and Wymysie sectors. Our armies are attacking everywhere.

"Westward from the Vistula river we attacked hostile positions north of Tarnow this afternoon, subsequently progressing within stormy distance of other parts of the front and at night entering Russian positions, the enemy fleeing. Pursuing the Russians, we captured Josefow, on the Vistula. The Russians were also repulsed from positions southeast of Sienna, where we captured 100 men.

"In the Italian war theater, the Italians attacked on the plateau Debedo repeatedly. After preparation by heavy guns for several hours, they launched infantry attacks between Sarcausina and Vermigliano, which we repulsed with heavy loss. Feeble attacks against the bridgehead in the Gora region and at Krm were repulsed, our troops maintaining their positions. Artillery fighting continues."

RUSSIANS REPORT HARD FIGHTING.

Petrograd, July 2.—(Via London, July 3, 1:32 a. m.)—The following official statement was given out here tonight:

"June 30 north of Pranzany and the following night in the Shavli and the Haidon regions we repulsed local German attacks. On the left bank of the Vistula the enemy on Thursday delivered heavy attacks on the front Sienna-Josefow. In the direction of Labin the enemy is in contact with us along the Rytva Wymysie and Pur. Between the Vepor and Bug rivers the enemy continues to progress towards the north and northeast.

"In the region north of Zamosca on Thursday there was a stubborn street fighting. A regiment of Prussian guards, which had seized the village of Jorkoff, was dislodged by our combatants from the enemy on Wednesday and all of Thursday morning delivered numerous attacks, most of which were repulsed, inflicting heavy losses on the enemy. During our counter attacks we took over 1,000 prisoners and captured many machine guns. Nevertheless, the enemy's position remains unchanged.

"The Russian forces have reached the Russian positions at Krasnik, in the southeastern part of the front, according to the official statement issued today by the German army headquarters. The statement also says that the Russian forces in the region west of Zamosca have been driven back.

"Western theater: A night attack on our positions west of Bouches was beaten off. In the western portion of the army advanced by storm over a front five kilometers (3 miles) long and from 50 to 300 meters wide. This was carried out by the Westphalian troops. Twenty-five officers and 1,710 men were made prisoners and captured machine guns, 40 mine throwers and one revolver cannon were captured.

"Eastern theater: In the Vosges on Illerstrand we took an enemy work. Attempts by the enemy to recapture it were repulsed. Three officers and 149 men fell into our hands.

"Eastern theater: Southwest of Kalswara after stubborn fighting, we took a mine position from the enemy and captured 600 Russians.

"Northern theater: After storming the heights southwest of Bukasew, north of Haidon, the Russians along the whole front

FRENCH CHECK GERMAN DRIVE.

Paris, July 2.—Tonight's war office statement says:

"During Friday on the entire front from the Vosges to the Argonne, there were nothing but artillery duels. In the Argonne the enemy, after a violent bombardment, attempted a new general attack between the Argonne leading to Bernerville and Flan-leul. After an especially stubborn fight which at certain points we held out for several hours, the enemy was repulsed and his losses were heavy. Yesterday evening the Germans after intense artillery preparation, attempted on our position, on Illerstrand (in the Vosges) a series of attacks, the first of which were repulsed. In the course of the third attack the enemy gained a foothold in our works. Through a counter-attack we recaptured this position. All our positions, which the Germans are continuing to shell, remain in our hands.

"In the Dardanelles after the successes gained by the British troops on June 28, the Turks attempted violent counter-attacks. They were repulsed with heavy losses.

"On June 30 we carried a Turkish raid in the form of a quadrilateral, including six successive lines of trenches. The ground is covered with dead Turkish soldiers. We have not been counter-attacked."

FIVE VESSELS ARE SUNK BY GERMAN SUBMARINES

British Steamers Caucasian, Inglemore and Welbury Among the Victims.

London, July 2.—Three British steamers, the Caucasian, Inglemore and Welbury, the dark hulled ones, were sunk today by German submarines in the vicinity of the Shetland Islands and off South Ireland.

The Caucasian met her fate southwest of Lizard Head, on the coast of Cornwall, on Thursday morning. While engaged in picking up her crew the Inglemore fell a victim to the same submarine.

The Caucasian, when the submarine opened fire, was given full steam in an endeavor to escape. Not until the steamer was struck by several shots, one of which demolished the wheel, did her captain surrender. The crew then abandoned the vessel. The submarine hauled alongside and fired eight shots into the vessel. A dog belonging to the captain of the Caucasian jumped overboard and the captain plunged from one of the boats to the rough sea and rescued his pet.

Two hours later the Inglemore appeared on the scene and started picking up the Caucasian's boat. The Inglemore had taken the occupants of the submarine and boarded the boat. The submarine emerged and opened fire on her. The Inglemore, being hit, the crew took to the boats and the submarine then torpedoed and sank the Inglemore, subsequently returning to the Caucasian, which was still floating. The crew of the Inglemore and a part of the crew of the Caucasian were landed at Penzance, but one of the Caucasian's boats with fifteen men aboard, was being rowed toward Penzance when last sighted.

The Welbury Sugar-Laden.

The commander of the submarine was delighted on learning that the steamer Welbury carried a cargo of sugar. After the ship left Cuba it was discovered that some one had made the vessel the vessel's forehead the words:

"I have a cargo of sugar for England, but you will never get there. The Inglemore and Caucasian were sunk by the 'U-39'." This was the name of the submarine. The skipper of the I. C. Tower rescued two other sailing vessels, disarmed himself and returned to the dumpy canvas funnel, two masts and a false hull. The ship's appearance was so different from the appearance of a sugar-laden steamer with smoke issuing from her funnel.

CHAMBER BACKS APPEAL FOR BONDS FOR GRADY

The Atlanta Chamber of Commerce yesterday took action on the question of bonds for improvements at Grady hospital, shown to be so much needed in the statement given out by Superintendent W. B. Summerall, who resigned last Tuesday, but whose resignation was tabled pending further consideration by the board of trustees.

Colonel Robert J. Lowry, president of the Grady board of trustees, took the matter up with the chamber of commerce and the resolution favoring Grady bonds was immediately adopted. The resolution will be presented to city council.

In an interview with a Constitution reporter, Colonel Lowry stated that at least $400,000 was needed at once for Grady hospital to relieve the present congestion there.

He stressed the need of a new annex building, where surplus patients might be housed in comfort.

TURKS REPELSED IN HEAVY OSS

Another Success for Allies in Operations Against the Dardanelles—More Turk Trenches Are Taken.

London, July 2.—General Sir Ian Hamilton, commanding the allied land forces at the Dardanelles, in his second official dispatch of the week, records the repulse of a vicious counter attack by the Turks, who were bent on recovering lost ground south of the fortified hill of Achi Baba and the strong position at Krithia, which the British for some time have been attempting to envelop.

Counter Stroke by Turks. The British forged forward last Monday and the following day, and the Turks, after sapping and mining, launched a counter stroke with the bayonet. This was crushed, while the French forces operating on the right in Kereverdere valley toward the east coast of Gallipoli advanced and consolidated ground won the last of June. Despite hard fighting ever since the landing on April 25, the Franco-British expedition only lately has achieved anything notable toward penetrating its hold on the tip of the Gallipoli peninsula. Achi Baba is a small Gibraltar, bristling with machine guns, surrounded by barbed wire and terraced with trenches. This is the reason why any allied progress is halted with great satisfaction in England.

It is interesting to note the tributes to the Turks' bravery and even gallantry paid in almost every dispatch from British correspondents at the Dardanelles. At no time during the peninsula fighting have the Turks been accused of atrocities.

Text of the Statement.

Attorney Marshall Says "Bridge" Admitted Perjury, and Said Becker Had Nothing to Do With the Rosenthal Murder.

Passaic, N. J., July 2.—Bridge Webber, at his home here tonight, denied that he had given H. T. Marshall, his former attorney, any information regarding Charles Becker. "I told my whole story at the two trials," said Webber, "and I am through with the whole thing."

New York, July 2.—That Charles Becker, the former New York police lieutenant in Sing Sing prison under sentence of death for conspiring to kill Herman Rosenthal, had absolutely nothing to do with the murder, was the statement made today by H. T. Marshall, an attorney, as coming from his client, Bridge Webber, one of the three self-confessed accomplices in the plot.

This followed closely on the heels of a story that Sam Schoppa, the gambler on whom the state relied at the first Becker trial to corroborate testimony of Jack Rose, Harry Valton and Bridge Webber, the three informers, held "the secret in the Becker case," and would tell Governor Whitman, had the governor asked him to.

Other developments in the case followed in rapid succession. These were that Marshall intended to go before Chief Justice Bartlett, of the court of appeals, who wrote the prevailing opinion denying Becker a new trial, and explain to him the facts relating to Webber, and also the statement from Martin T. Manton, counsel for Becker, that W. Bourke Cockran, his law partner, is going to make an appeal to the United States supreme court in Becker's behalf, basing it on the theory that Becker was not convicted by due process of law.

Webber Admitted Perjury. "Webber," said Marshall, "told me as his counsel at the first trial that Becker had absolutely nothing to do with the murder of Rosenthal. Webber said that he and the others were perjuring themselves to save their skins."

Marshall said that he told Webber to get another lawyer and that from that time he could not speak because of professional obligation to Becker. "But I had not been convinced of Becker's innocence," continued Marshall, "I would not have allowed myself with the lawyers in his defense at the second trial. I never would have entered the case had I not been convinced of Becker's innocence."

"I know I am now putting myself in the position as being hailed before the appellate division," Marshall added, "but I have no difference to make between my life is at stake, and if what I say is true, I am willing to take the chance."

Appeal to U. S. Supreme Court. Marshall then told of his intention to go before Chief Justice Bartlett. Martin T. Manton, in making the announcement that W. Bourke Cockran plans to appeal to the United States supreme court, said the appeal would be based on newspaper articles published prior to the trial, to the refusal of the application for a change of venue without a hearing and the extraordinary position of Governor Whitman at the present time, since he was instrumental in convicting Becker and now the only one in position to save him. Becker, Manton said, is unable to exercise his constitutional right to have

Marshall said that he told Webber to get another lawyer and that from that time he could not speak because of professional obligation to Becker. "But I had not been convinced of Becker's innocence," continued Marshall, "I would not have allowed myself with the lawyers in his defense at the second trial. I never would have entered the case had I not been convinced of Becker's innocence."

"I know I am now putting myself in the position as being hailed before the appellate division," Marshall added, "but I have no difference to make between my life is at stake, and if what I say is true, I am willing to take the chance."

Appeal to U. S. Supreme Court. Marshall then told of his intention to go before Chief Justice Bartlett. Martin T. Manton, in making the announcement that W. Bourke Cockran plans to appeal to the United States supreme court, said the appeal would be based on newspaper articles published prior to the trial, to the refusal of the application for a change of venue without a hearing and the extraordinary position of Governor Whitman at the present time, since he was instrumental in convicting Becker and now the only one in position to save him. Becker, Manton said, is unable to exercise his constitutional right to have Special Officer Ed L. Arthur, police theatrical censor, and George E. Johnson's personal staff of workers.

Chief Officer Arthur will report to the chief of police's office. This change is to take effect next Monday, when Special Officer Arthur will report to the chief of police's office.

Chief Beavers has issued a special order to his patrolmen requiring them to be diligent in their watch over look-alikes of the auto drivers who violate the speed laws and lend characters go the rounds.

PAID HIS OPPONENT $1,000 TO QUIT RACE

Charge Made Against Judge Purfoy, of Alabama—Purfoy Declines to Talk.

Montgomery, Ala., July 2.—Judge John Purfoy paid James H. Nunnelee $1,000 in consideration of the latter's withdrawal from the race for secretary of state in the recent primaries. It was testified to today before the legislative investigation committee.

The charges were made by Bradley Brown, of Birmingham, former automobile license collector in Jefferson county. His testimony was substantiated by W. P. Fowlie, clerk of the office of the secretary of state, and John Chapman, clerk of the state auditor's office. Both witnesses swore they were present when the money, in currency, was passed.

Judge Purfoy, summoned before the committee, claimed privilege of his constitutional rights and declined to answer any questions put to him by the investigators. Mr. Nunnelee was not before the committee today. Impachment proceedings most likely will be instituted, officials stated this afternoon.

FACTS not Fiction

Just when hops were first used in the brewing of beer cannot be historically proven. The ancients used aromatics of some sort and even honey with barley brews.

St. Hildegard, Abbess of the Benedictine nunnery, Rupertsberg, near Benglen-on-Rhine, in her book on Natural History "Physica Sacra" writes in "De Hoppo":

"The hop when added to beverages prevents in the later putrefaction and gives to them a longer durability."

The Saint also states that "the beer does not do any harm."

"It's Wiedemann's"

Is another way to say "it's wholesome" because of its scientific brewing with the best of Bohemian and Bavarian hops.

New York, July 2.—Cotton seed oil was heavy, closing 5 to 8 points net lower. Scattered liquidation, coupled with moderate demand generally, and the decline in many products, were the depressing factors. There were further July tenders today of 2,000 barrels, making about 20,000 thus far. Total sales, 6,000 barrels.

JAPAN MENACES CHINA BECAUSE OF BOYCOTT

Pekin is Told That Temper of the Japanese May Force Strong Measures.

Pekin, July 2.—(12:30 a. m.)—Owing to the serious boycott and because of the Chinese formation of patriotic societies, the Japanese minister to China, on behalf of Japan, has repeatedly protested to the foreign office.

The Japanese minister is quoted as saying, according to unquestionable Chinese information, that the temper of the Japanese people may overpower the Japanese government and compel stronger measures against China.

Federal Posseman Acquitted of Murder Of Alleged Moonshiner

Rome, Ga., July 2.—(Special.)—Oscar Bradley, a "federal posseman," accused of the murder of R. B. Ralston, alleged federal distiller, has been acquitted in federal court.

The case presented several peculiar features. Bradley was defended by the United States district attorney, who is usually the prosecutor in cases in federal court. He was prosecuted by Solicitor General W. C. Hardy, who is usually the prosecutor in cases in state court. The defense took the case to the jury, and the jury found Bradley not guilty.

YARLAN CASE DECIDED.

Judge Speer Orders Sale of Two Plants.

Brunswick, Ga., July 2.—(Special.)—The last litigation in the long-drawn-out legal fight of the Yarkan Naval Stores company was decided by Judge Speer, of the United States court at St. Simons today, when a final decree was entered and an order passed for the sale of the two plants of the company, the Brunswick plant to be sold on August 3, and the Yarkan plant to be sold on August 10.

The report of Special Master R. D. Meadow fixing the value of the various assets was filed with court at the time of the decision. The Yarkan company was organized in 1904, and the court stated that reorganization plans were not well advanced when the company was sold.
